You Know You're a Fair Kid When...

1. You have the habit of writing your name on EVERYTHING. Everyone has the same shovel and shares everything to make sure the barn stays clean. If your name isn't on it, it might accidentally end up in someone else's tack. Sharpies are your best friend.

2. You know what tack is. While most think of a sharp pin object, to you it is all your prized possessions. Your tools of the trade to make sure your livestock are happy, healthy and clean.

3. You realize eyes are on you at all times. Whether it's the judge in the ring or at your interview, your advisor/leader, your mom, or the younger kids, someone is always watching you. You learned the valuable lesson of always behaving like you are being watched, even when you don't think you are. You know to always do the right thing.

4. You learned all about politics early on. It's a part of life. It's all about who you know AND what you know.

5. You've had a fair fling. Nothing screams real romance like helping each other sweep the barn walkway or hanging out at the carnival.

6. Poop doesn't bother you. You are either scooping it, washing it off, or monitoring it. It's all about inputs and outputs. You have become immune to the smell of it. In a normal setting, people standing around chatting with manure all over their jeans is considered unsanitary, but at the fair, it's just a regular day (and most likely unloading day).

7. You have learned not to judge the outfits worn to do morning chores. It's early, you haven't had breakfast yet and you have exactly 30 minutes until the judges come around. Sweatpants and cowboy boots go together, right?

8. You know how to stay composed. Even in the face of defeat you know how to keep a smile. Whether it is the perfect cake collapsing on the way to fair, a snag in your dress at Fashion Revue, or your animal going rodeo-style on you at the fair, you grit your teeth and stay calm and collected. Every exhibitor knows things don't always work out as planned but they continue to do their best with the situation.

9. If your name is on the stall card, it is your responsibility. If it poops, you scoop it up. If it's hungry, you feed it, if it's thirsty, you water it.

10. You always put your animal before yourself. This goes for needs and beauty. You don't eat unless your livestock has been fed. You don't put your show clothes on until you have spent hours beautifying every detail of your animal, right down to the hooves.

11. You have a fair friend. You go all year without seeing this person but as soon as you are reunited, it's like you were never apart.

12. You have lived on a fair food diet. You consider snow-cones a food group and a fair burger a delicacy.

13. You're stronger than most kids at your school. Carrying water buckets, feed sacks and pitching straw takes a lot of work. In the words of Luke Bryan "You can't get these muscles anywhere but a farm."

14. You know you can lead an animal to water but you can't make it drink. No matter how desperate you are to keep your critter hydrated in the summer heat, if it doesn't want to drink, it won't. But all of us will stand waiting at the water trough anyway because we know how important it is.

15. You have learned to NEVER let go of the halter... Or at least you try and hold onto the halter as long as you absolutely can. If your animal gets spooked and takes off, you are at the end of that roped holding on for dear life.

16. You care about the number on the scale. Livestock weigh-in is the moment of truth. You cross your fingers hoping the scale is accurate, and pray your animal makes weight. We all know every pound counts. It determines your weight class and the number on the check at the end of the week.

17. You take the question "Were you raised in a barn?" as a compliment. It's where you learned the meaning of hard work, discipline, responsibility, determination and leadership.

18. Your show clothes are your best clothes. They are the only clothing you use a hanger for and are perfectly ironed. But inevitably they will get some sort of livestock slobber, snot or manure on them. (Thanks mom for always understanding).

19. You have a collection of ribbons. You have run out of room to display them. It's time to get creative with the extras...make a pillow/quilt or a shadow box, maybe? The list of ideas could go on forever.

20. Crying at the auction is allowed twice.

The first time you sell your animal, you have to say goodbye to your buddy. You were really young so your parents most likely found you the tamest pet they could. The first time looking into your projects eyes while the auctioneer rattles of the bidding numbers is a heart breaker. After that first time, you become hardened to the realities of what happens after the sale. The second time tears are allowed is at your last show. You have entered the ring for the last time and can't help but get a little choked up at the thought of your career as a showman coming to an end. You learned amazing life lessons and the journey from a novice to that moment is a lot to take in.

A huge thank you to all of those who help keep local fairs alive and going! An amazing tradition that holds insurmountable life lessons and opportunities. The values and memories made at a local fair are truly treasured.

LIVESTOCK

Days on Feed

Use the following numbers to calculate your Rate of Gain for your livestock record.

Beef – 162 Days
Sheep – 92 Days
Goats – 92 Days

2017 Market Prices for Record Books

Beef – $1.15 per pound
Sheep – $1.72 per pound
Goats – $1.55 per pound
Swine – $0.66 per pound
Chickens – $1.08 per pound
Large Poultry – $1.16 per pound
Rabbit – $8.00 per animal

Because completed record books are required and due before fair, some sections (i.e. financial summaries) of the record book need to be estimated. After record books have been evaluated and returned, delete the estimated information and replace with actual figures so that factual results will be known about the project.

Animal Records

(Please note that livestock record book CD's are new this year)

Use the record book CD for the following only:

1. Junior, Intermediate and Senior Market Livestock Record Books including Beef, Sheep, Swine, and Goats.
2. Junior, Intermediate and Senior Breeding Livestock Record Books including Beef, Sheep, Swine, and Goats and Dairy and supplementary breeding forms.
3. Junior, Intermediate and Senior Horse Record Books.
4. Bucket Calf
5. Livestock Records Hints & Tips
6. Junior, Intermediate and Senior Market and Breeding Rabbit and Breeding Supplement.
7. Junior, Intermediate and Senior Market and Breeding Poultry. Egg Production included in record book.
8. Dog Record Book
9. Score sheets for record books mentioned above.
10. Other supplementary items to use as resources. This material is also available in the Extension Office.

Herdsman Contest

The Yuma County Fair gives all of our exhibitors the occasion to share their projects with not only their family and friends, but people from all areas and demographics. Some of these spectators will not have had a previous opportunity to see these types of projects, especially the livestock, and it is crucial that we present our livestock projects to the best of our ability. The Herdsman Award presents a cash prize to the clubs that can do the following to the best of their ability:

- Cleanliness of pens
- Cleanliness of area in front around pens
- Signs identifying club/exhibitor name

Cash prizes will be given out to the winning clubs at the Achievement Program in October.

Friday Night Rides

For all members who are signed up in the Horse Project and would like some more time on your horse with opportunities to learn new skills. Friday Night Rides are taking place at Ray Hendrix's arena and at the home of Ryan and Ronella Noble. The 4-H practices will begin at 6:00 p.m. Bring your entire family out and join us!! If you can't make these rides and need to take a levels test, please call the Extension Office and we can help you get in contact with the certified testers.

Ranch Horse Skills Practice

On Saturday, July 1 at the home of Ryan Noble and on Friday, July 21 at the home of Ray Hendrix, we will be hosting a Working Ranch Horse Skills Practice. If you are planning on competing in the Working Ranch Horse classes on Monday, August 7th, you are encouraged to attend so the competition will be a smooth one.

Dog Written Test August 3rd

Dog members, remember that, for part of your total score, you will be asked to take a written test on Thursday, August 3rd. Please plan on being in the concessions building between 9:00-10:30 to take this test. The show ring will also be open from 10:30-11:30 if you would like to acclimate your dog before the show.

Important Poultry Notice

All poultry (ducks, chickens, geese, and turkeys) must be deloused 2 weeks before showing at the Yuma County Fair. This is to prevent the spread of diseases and parasites. We are also asking all exhibitors to bring a plastic container for their birds' food and water.

AUGUST 25 - SEPTEMBER 4, 2017

2017 Colorado State Fair Contestant Premium Books

The 2017 Colorado State Fair Contest Premium Book is available on-line at the website at www.coloradostatefair.com. Be sure to check deadline dates for your entries. COLORADO STATE FAIR REQUIRES A PREMISE ID NUMBER FOR ALL LIVESTOCK ENTRIES.

GENERAL AND HOME EC PROJECTS

4-H General & Home Ec Project Score Sheets & 2017 Requirements

The score sheets for all General and Home Ec projects are available on-line. These are the score sheets the judges will use at fair and may point out something that's missing from your project. To view the score sheets go to the CSU Extension website at: <http://www.colorado4h.org>. Click on Projects & Record Books in the left column; click on Score Sheets for Colorado State Fair and scroll to project desired. For project requirements, use the same site.

Display Books

Your E-Record book should accompany your board. You may use 3-ring binders or other notebooks that will keep the pages securely inside. You may not use slider-type binders.

Project Materials Available

We have display boards for your project displays for $3.00 and record book covers available for $2.50. We also have mounting boxes and pins for those in Entomology.

Display Boards for 4-H Exhibits

Display boards are a great way to share information, but when viewers walk by, they spend only 60-90 seconds looking at each one. Make yours stand out by highlighting the main points of your project in a fun, interesting way. Use these guidelines to create a display board for your project:

SIZE
Display boards for the state fair must measure 4 ft. wide x 3 ft. tall. They should be made of lightweight cardboard, but not poster board. Pre-cut boards are available at most craft and shopping centers. No part of your display may extend beyond these boundaries.

SHAPE
Design your exhibit so information fits on the display. Remember, you have one large surface, and two smaller side wings.

TEXT
Make sure that all the text on your display is easy to read. Use a large font for the title, and smaller fonts for the headings and body text. Text must be readable from 3-5 feet away. Use large bold letters. Dark letters on a light background works best.

SPACE
Your display should only discuss one main topic. This will help it look neat and uncrowded.

ATTACHMENTS
When attaching pictures or objects to your board make sure they are secure. Use glue for pictures and paper, and consider wires, zip ties or staples to attach bulkier items. Do not attach items that are so heavy that your board can't stand up.

Outstanding Boy and Girl Awards

Don't forget about the Outstanding Boy and Outstanding Girl awards that are given out at the Achievement program in October. Scores are based on the number and placing of your general and Home Ec projects, demonstrations, and community service activities. The boy and girl receiving the top score will receive a gift card to help them with their 4-H expenses. Take the time to complete your record book to the best of your ability so you will be eligible for this award.

Photography Project

Photography members, please make sure that you are looking at the project requirements on colorado4h.org or the ones that are found in the Yuma County Fairbook.

For some units, these requirements may differ from the ones in the manuals that you received.

Not Just for Photography Members

This is for all Photographers! You don't need to be enrolled in the photography project to enter the Best Photo Contest at the Colorado State Fair. Simply look at page 76 in the new fairbook for the requirements and then bring an amazing photo that you have taken in the state of Colorado to interview judging.

GOT 4-H TALENT?

Jamboree at Fashion Revue

Once upon a time, for those of you old enough to remember, Yuma County used to host a Jamboree. It was similar to a talent contest and showcased the members of Yuma County and their unique talents and gifts. Last year, we started it up again and are asking any Yuma County 4-H member to let us know if they can sing, act, play an instrument, dance, or have some type of theatrical act. If there is enough interest, we would hold it again in conjunction with the Fashion Revue (and yes, you can do both! ☺). Call the Extension Office if you are interested in this event.

Writing a Fashion Revue Commentary

There is a booklet in the Extension Office that may be of help to those that might want suggestions or ideas to write a fashion revue commentary. These commentaries are due to the Extension Office by July 24th. Look for the forms in the interview judging packets.

JUNIOR LIVESTOCK SALE

Livestock Consignments

All 4-H and FFA members MUST consign their livestock by the time listed in the fairbook. All market animals on the fairgrounds must be accounted for on the consignment form. This means that you'll need to tell us what animals are going home, what animals will be selling, what animals will be shipping, and what animals will be going to a locker plant. Be sure to account for all market animals at the fair, even those that may not have made weight or shown. If you need to make changes on where your animal will be going, you may do that but your consignment card MUST be turned in by the designated time or your spot in the Junior Livestock Sale will not be guaranteed.

Junior Livestock Sale Photos and Thank You's

All livestock selling in the Junior Livestock Sale will be photographed during the sale for use on buyer thank you cards. These photos should be picked up by your club leader or chapter advisor on Tuesday and then after fair, presented to your buyer as a token of appreciation. If is also appropriate to present them with a personal gift or written thank you at that time. Along with this photo, you will also receive a card that will need to be filled out by the buyer acknowledging the receipt of this picture/thank you. When the signed card is personally returned to the Extension Office, we will release your sale check to you as it becomes available. This is an expectation of all 4-H and FFA members selling through the sale.

Junior Livestock Sale Committee

We are looking for new volunteers for the Junior Livestock Sale Committee. This does not take much of your time and many hands make light work. Most importantly, without this committee, we would not have the livestock sale that we are used to. If you enjoy the generosity of our community at this event, please consider joining this committee. If there is enough interest to continue this committee, a meeting will be scheduled at a later date. If there is not enough interest, this committee will be disbanded.

YUMA COUNTY FAIR INFORMATION

2017 Changes and Additions for the Yuma County Fair

- Parade Theme: “It’s Not Just All About Cows and Plows”
- Grandstand Show: “Canaan Smith” 9:00 p.m., Tuesday, August 8th
Admission $20.00, Standing Room $25.00
- CAMPER SPACE RESERVATIONS MUST BE PAID IN FULL PRIOR TO INTERVIEW JUDGING DAY, AUGUST 3, 2017
- 2017 Junior Livestock Sale order: Rabbit, Poultry, Dairy, Goats, Beef, Sheep, and Swine
- Be sure to check possible changes in General and Home Ec 4-H project exhibit requirements.
- Market animals will NOT have a minimum rate of gain requirement to show in the Yuma County Fair market shows.
- All sheep must be clipped with no more than ¼” of hair on their body, excluding their legs from the knee down, and from the hock down.
- Junior Poultry exhibitors will be limited to 4 cages per exhibitor.
- Junior Rabbit exhibitors will be limited to 4 cages per exhibitor.
- Open Poultry exhibitors will be limited to 4 cages per exhibitor.
- Open Rabbit exhibitors will be limited to 4 cages per exhibitor.
- Any parade entry that wins First, Second, or Third place in their category will not be eligible for the Sweepstakes prize. Any check or prize money for the parade that is not cashed within 90 days will be void.

Yuma County Fair Camper Space Reminders

- ❖ Camper spaces are $40.00 for electrical, $80.00 for full service and generator $10.00 (evening generator use may be restricted.)
- ❖ All campers must be PAID IN FULL PRIOR TO INTERVIEW JUDGING on Thursday, August 3rd.
- ❖ Future camper spaces will be reserved AFTER September 1 of the current year.
- ❖ Any one that has not paid for a space in the past years will not be allowed to reserve a space until all back payments have been made.
- ❖ The Extension Office must be informed by July 1 for a cancellation of a reserved spot for a return of funds.
- ❖ Because you have a space reserved for the current year does not automatically mean you have one reserved for the following year. You must call in every year.
- ❖ You may NOT reserve 2 spaces for a slide out camper or for more room. Spaces are in demand.
- ❖ Preference will be given to 4-H/FFA exhibitors/leaders
- ❖ A camper may not crowd another reserved camper or they may be asked to vacate their space at the discretion of the fairboard. If a camper crowds another reserved camper, it may be necessary to limit access to all slides.
- ❖ There will be no changes made for spaces assigned unless confirmed with the Extension Office. A map will be made of the reserved camper layout with names. The Extension Office will try and fill requests as best we can but not guaranteed.
- ❖ No reserved spots will be exempt from fees except those deemed by the fairboard.
- ❖ Spaces will be chalked out for the campers south of the county shop.
- ❖ If there are any questions or problems please call the Extension Office (332-4151)

National Anthem Tryouts

We are looking for beautiful, patriotic voices to help sing our National Anthem at various events during the Yuma County Fair. If you are interested, please come to the fairgrounds on Monday, July 17th at 6:30 pm.

Yuma County Fair Parade

If your club or organization is planning on having a float at the Yuma County Fair Parade, please visit the Wray Chamber or the Yuma Chamber website or go to yumacounty.net for entry forms. The theme this year will be “It’s Not Just All About Cows and Plows.” The parade route will once again be down Main Street.

Ribbons and Awards

The protocol for awarding ribbons will be based on the American System (1st through 6th place) instead of the Danish System (Blue, Red, White), as we have done in the past. Each unit will be awarded a place and the projects that are chosen to go to the Colorado State Fair will typically be the first or second place project.

Thank You’s

Thank you cards should be sent out to anyone who has sponsored a trophy, bought your livestock project or sponsored other awards you have received. For the Home Ec/General Projects and Livestock trophies, the name and address will be on a card included with the trophy/gift to help you get your thank you card out quickly. For your livestock buyer, it will be your responsibility to find out who bought your animal and send them a thank you note.

Receiving a prompt thank you will be greatly appreciated by your sponsor and will encourage them to be a supporter next year!

For Your Information

As our county fair is quickly approaching, it is time to be reminded of the reasons we have all poured so much of our time into our projects and the reason we signed up for it. In the beginning it was because we had a passion for this particular project and had the excitement that seemed to be contagious. This enthusiasm said that this was the year that we could do something amazing. We all planned to start early and stay on top of things so we could avoid the usual last minute crunch and the late nights in front of the display boards. We even bragged to our friends and family that this was the year that things were going to change. Today, just weeks before fair, is that the picture that you are looking at. Probably not. After we signed up for these projects, we remembered that we had field trips, sports, tests, other contests, and now...where has the time gone. We still have time to refocus and exhibit the best project we can.

In all of the last minute preparation, please don’t forget 3 fundamental guidelines to a successful 4-H year:

1. Be proud of your project. When you are done, check and double check. Is your record book signed? Did you complete all of the supplements to your record book? Is this project prepared to be judged and all aspects completed? You want this project, whether it is Livestock, Home Ec, or a General Project, to tell a story about you so make sure it is a good story.

2. Be sure to say Thanks! There were probably quite a few people who have helped you from beginning to completion of this project. Parents, Leaders, Judges, Superintendents, Sponsors, Buyers, and other family members would love to hear a heartfelt “Thank You”. After all, the project that made it to the fair would probably not be possible without their help.

3. Be a good sport. We all want to win, but we also know that it is not possible for everyone to win their class. Doing your best and being proud of what you have done will be the ultimate reward. 4-H is about learning a skill, becoming a well-rounded individual, and becoming a positive member of our community. Winning is just the icing on the cake. Be sure to congratulate the people in your class/unit for a job well done.

Interview Judging Concessions

The Yuma County 4-H Council is excited to announce that concessions will be held during the 2017 Interview Judging on Thursday, August 3rd. They will be serving breakfast burritos, cinnamon rolls, juice and coffee. For lunch they will have Hamburgers, Hot pulled pork Sandwiches, and Hot Roast Beef Sandwiches for sale. The funds for this concessions stand will go directly to the Yuma County Shooting Sports Program.

Yuma County Food Booth Guidelines

Remember you are representing yourself and 4-H and will be serving food to the public. Wash hands before entering the food booth and after entering the food booth. Do not wipe hands off on clothing. Use paper towels.

WEAR CLEAN CLOTHING – DO NOT serve the public in unclean clothing.

Tie hair back if hair is shoulder length.

Make sure shoes with laces are tied.

Do not give drink refills except for water.
